DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to amendment, filed 03/25/2005.
2. Claims 1-6, 8-15, 17-25, 27 and 28 are pending in this application. Claims 1, 10 and 20 are independent claims. In this amendment, claims 7, 16 and 26 are canceled, claims 1-4, 8-13, 17-23, 27 and 28 are amended, and no claim is added. This action is made non-final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-6, 8-15, 17-25, 27 and 28 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitations "the user interface description" in line 8 and "said information" in line 13. There are insufficient antecedent basis for these limitations in the claim. The same rejection is applied to claims 10 and 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1-3, 6, 8-12, 15, 17-22, 25, 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yang (US 6,133,847).

As per independent claims 1, 10 and 20, Yang teaches a computer implemented method and corresponding system for providing a user interface for controlling devices that are currently connected to a network comprising the steps/means:

for at least one of said devices:

obtaining information from one or more of the devices currently connected to the network, wherein each device includes device information for user interaction with that device (col. 8, lines 10-14); and generating a top page user interface description based at least on the obtained information (col. 8, lines 14-17), the user interface description including a reference associated with the device information in each of said devices currently connected to the network, such that each reference in the top page user interface description includes at least one electronic link providing direct access from the top page user interface description to said information contained in said devices currently connected to the network (col. 8, lines 17-24).

Wherein the device information in each device includes a user control interface description for user interaction with that device, such that when a link in the top page user interface description is user activated, the control interface description in the corresponding device is accessed to obtain device information and generate a device user interface for user interaction with that corresponding device (col. 8, lines 17-24).

As per claims 2, 11 and 21, Yang teaches the link comprises a pointer from the top page user interface description to at least the information in a corresponding device (col. 8, lines 17-24).

As per claims 3, 12 and 22, Yang teaches the steps of generating the top page the user interface description such that the user interface description further includes device data corresponding to each device based on the information obtained from each device (col. 8, lines 10-14).

As per claims 6, 15 and 25, Yang teaches the device information in each device includes device identification information for that device (col. 5, lines 41-46).

As per claims 8, 17 and 27, Yang teaches the steps of generating the top page user interface description such that each link in the top page user interface description provides direct access to at least the user control interface description in each corresponding device (col. 2, lines 27-33 and col. 8, lines 17-24).

As per claims 9, 18 and 28, Yang teaches the steps of generating the top page user interface description such that the top page user interface description further includes device data corresponding to each device based on the information obtained from each device, the device data providing an electronic link to the user control interface description in each device, such that when the link in the top page is user activated it provides access to control interface description in the corresponding device (col. 2, lines 27-33 and col. 8, lines 17-24).

As per claim 19, which is dependent on claim 10, Yang teaches means for generating at least one top page user interface by: using each link in the top page user interface description to access the device information in each corresponding device, and generating the top page user interface including device data corresponding to each device using the accessed information in each device (col. 2, lines 27-33, col. 8, lines 10-14 and lines 17-24).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 4, 5, 13, 14, 23, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yang (US #6,466,233).

As per claims 4, 5, 13, 14, 23 and 24, Yang does not disclose generating the top page user interface description further includes the steps of associating a hyper-text link with the device information in each of said devices currently connected to the network, such that each hyper-text link provides access from the top page user interface description to the device information in a corresponding device and the information in each device comprises an HTML page for user interaction with and/or control of that device. Examiner takes Official Notice that using hypertext link HTML technology to implement top page graphical user interface and applying HTML link to link a selected device icon to another HTML page to display further functional control panel for controlling that particular device would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. It would have been obvious to an artisan at the time of the invention to include hyper-text link HTML pages define sets of user interface functions for multiple devices, connected to a network, that enable user interaction and control of those devices in Yang's method since hyper-text link HTML pages would allow the devices to be remotely controlled from the Internet via HTTP protocol.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6, 8-15, 17-25, 27 and 28 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
